Saints of the Week

Solemnity of St Philip Howard, Martyr, Patron of the Diocese - 19th October

Saint Philip Howard, 20th Earl of Arundel (28 June 1557 -19 October 1595) was an English nobleman and Co-Principal Patron of the Diocese. He was canonised by Pope Paul VI in 1970, as one of the Forty Martyrs of England and Wales. The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church, as Tertullian famously stated in the 2nd century. St Philip Howard, with so many of the martyrs of the Reformation, chose the suffering of the cross over worldly acclaim. Why? Because Christ was his first love. May he be yours and mine too.

Memorial of St John Paul II, Pope - 22nd October

Pope John Paul II was the head of the Catholic Church and sovereign of the Vatican City State from 1978 until his death in 2005. He was elected pope by the second papal conclave of 1978, which was called after Pope John Paul I, who had been elected in August to succeed Pope Paul VI, died after 33 days.

Memorial of St John Capistrano, Priest - 23rd October

St John Capistrano (1386-1456) was married in his youth but it was later annulled. He gave up a promising career in order to become a Franciscan and became a popular preacher in Italy and beyond, often being entrusted with papal missions. He preached a crusade after the Turks captured Constantinople in 1453 and exhorted the victorious Christian troops at the battle of Belgrade in 1456. He died shortly afterwards of the plague at Ilok (Croatia).

Memorial of St Anthony Mary Claret, Bishop - 24th October

Born at Sallent in Spain in the year 1807. After becoming a priest he spent several years preaching to the people throughout Catalonia. He founded a society of missionaries (Claretian Fathers) and was made a bishop in the island of Cuba where he worked for the good of souls with great profit. Coming back to Spain he had to endure many trials for the sake of the Church. He died at Fontfroide in France in the year 1870.

The office is open on Mondays and Thursdays from 9.30am - 12.30pm. If you have yet to do so, please send Maggie in the office your updated contact details, as we would prefer not to have to send too many letters but use e-mail for contact if possible.

The Parish Pastoral Team send all parishioners their prayers and good wishes.

Mission Sunday 18th October 2020

Bishop Richard has made a short podcast for this year's World Mission Sunday, which will be available on the Diocesan Website and in e-news, he has also sent us this message from the National Director of Missio - Fr. Antony Chantry:

'This year, World Mission Sunday falls on 18th October. On this day the whole Church unites in prayer for its missionary activity and in collecting funds to support Catholic communities across the world living in situations of poverty and privation. The need is even greater this year due to the Covid-19 pandemic, especially in countries with inadequate financial and medical resources. The theme chosen by Pope Francis for this year World Mission Sunday is 'Here I am, send me!' In these difficult and uncertain times, the Holy Father encourages us with these words: "God continues to look to those he can send into the world, and to the nations, to bear witness to his love, his deliverance from sin and death, and his liberation from evil." All donations go to the Universal Solidarity Fund in order to meet the spiritual and material needs of peoples and Churches throughout the world. Thank you for your ongoing support of Missio through prayer and charity. Please do all you can to celebrate this day in solidarity with the whole Church.' For more information about World Mission Sunday, please visit www.missio.org.uk.

In this and our previous newsletter two people, one nun and one priest, who work in the missions are featured. We are familiar with the term 'missionaries,' but what exactly do they do?

WHAT DO MISSIONARIES DO?

Fr Peter Ekutt is a White Father missionary working in north east Congo. Recently a kind reader of the White Father's magazine sent £200 which allowed Fr Ekutt to come to the rescue of many of his parishioners. He writes ' The money was used to provide shelter to displaced people in the refugee camp of Mahagi where I do my pastoral work. The situation of the displaced people is dire. More than 1.5 million Congolese have lost their homes through conflict and tribal war especially in the Eastern Congo where I am working. The displaced people live in makeshift shelters made of banana leaves and raffia bags. When it rains conditions are horrible. The plastic sheets I have been able to give helps keep out the worst.

Fr. Peter Ekutt, MAfr, from Nigeria

On one of my visits to one of the camps on the shores of Lake Albert, I saw villages where over half of the houses were destroyed. Jeanee, fled her village in Djuru in February together with her children. 'Our house was burnt to the ground. We saw it behind us as we were fleeing. We heard gunshots and fled but by then they had killed my husband. They looted my home and then burnt it down.'

Mungufeni, a displaced 19 year old boy told Fr Peter how he had managed to survive 'Armed men broke the windows of our house and started chopping off the heads of people in the neighbourhood. My Dad, my Mum and my elder brother were killed. I was in school when I heard - I could not go back. I have not buried any of them!'
